

E-Tabs Bureau

Sometimes it's a tracker where you have to update the same PowerPoint presentation every month. Sometimes it's a project that requires the same report to be produced for ten different markets. Sometimes it's just a case of too many reports, too little time.

E-Tabs Bureau Service does your reporting for you. We liaise with you, discuss your needs and agree timelines. Then we take your data tables and your template, automate the reporting for your project and hand you back the deliverable - just as agreed and right on schedule.

E-Tabs Bureau Service is open to everyone, no matter your size or location. You don't need any experience of our software or a license to use us. You just have to tell us exactly what you need reported and where we can find it in your data set, and we will do the rest.

Naturally, our Bureau team are highly experienced in the business and processes of reporting, having worked in the Market Research industry. They are made up of executives and technical specialists, who can offer you a professional and knowledgeable service.

How can I benefit?

Ad Hoc Reporting

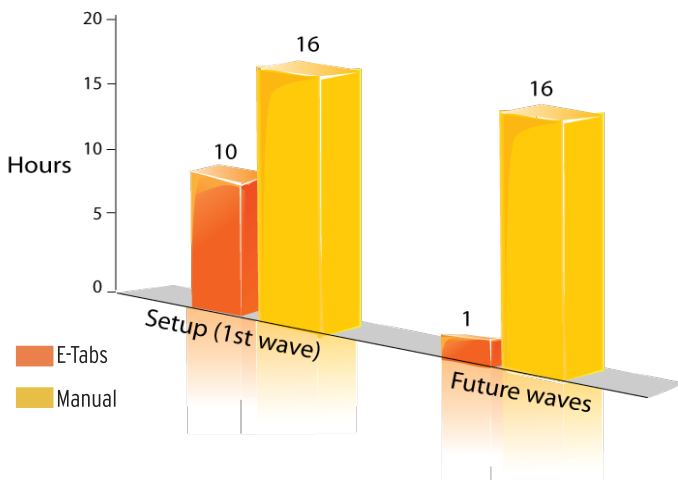

Recently the Bureau team completed an ad hoc study that was made up of 11 country multi-market reports each with 4-5 different markets in each country. The template consisted of approximately 50 slides per market (200+ slides per country). The time savings on automating this project were considerable.

Overall saving of 300+ hours

Tracking Study

In recent months the Bureau Service has worked on a monthly tracking project which was made up of 80 slides with over 300 charts - repeated every month. The benefits are clear from the chart below.

Overall saving of 15 hours per month

Further benefits

E-Tabs Bureau Service is not only for repetitive studies, there are many other opportunities where you can benefit from their automation services.

The Bureau Service can be used to setup reports in advance of your required deadlines. Using interim or dummy data, your entire report can be setup, tested and approved prior to fieldwork ending. This allows you the freedom and time to concentrate on adding that extra insight and added value to the project.

Automating a report for a large sample? With little extra effort the Bureau team would be able to run additional reports on filtered data allowing you to provide extra insight for the client. Something that would normally mean double the work can be done in a fraction of the time.

E-Tabs' in house automation experts become an extension to your team, involved in your projects, sharing their experience and assisting in various aspects of your reporting.

Are you eligible?

Clients who have previously benefitted from the E-Tabs Bureau Service are wide-ranging in terms of both size and industry. These include research agencies both international and local, as well as corporations in fields as varying as Global Professional Service, Business Consultancy, Parcel Delivery and Food Manufacturing.

In addition to this, and perhaps most important of all, we are all totally committed to you, the customer, and completely focused on your needs. We will get the job done!

"Working with E-Tabs was always easy and stress-less - our auto-charting was always delivered on time (often ahead of schedule). They were always very quick to respond to any issues we had and we really appreciated how they would let us know ahead of time if they foresaw any issues with deliverables. A pleasure to work with"
